DONATE YOUR LIFT TO THRIFT

Donate to the Rock Thrift Store to help establish Pervasive Hope in San Diego. Our goal is to collect 25 vehicles during the month of November and 50 by the end of the year. For more info, contact Matt Jones at 619.876.4187 or matt.jones@sdrock.com.

If you're a parent, you know that the love you feel for your kids is the most powerful feeling you've ever experienced. It's the kind of love that motivates you to sacrifice every convenience you've come accustomed to, including sleep, down time, alone time with a spouse, buying power, perhaps a little sanity and the list goes on and on. But no matter the inconvenience, you'll do it without blinking an eye. Because of all the things you love in this world, none compare to how you feel about your kids. And no one loves your kids more than you.

Actually, that's not true.

The Bible makes the case that no matter how much you love your children, God loves them more—and it's not even close.

Could that change how you teach your kids about God? Better yet, can it change your relationship with Him? A little perspective could be helpful. That's why Family Pastor David Robles offers his. See this week's Pastor's Perspective at blog.sdrock.com.
