The Mission of the Rock Church is to Save, Equip and Send.

Miles McPherson, a former defensive back with the San Diego Chargers, is the Senior Pastor of Rock Church and founder of DoSomethingChurch.org - a vibrant affiliation dedicated to establishing Pervasive Hope in their communities through proactive community service. Rock Church is one of the largest churches in the US and home to over 140 outreach ministries. Rock Church hosts 15 services every weekend, with a weekly attendance of over 15,000 people at their three locations in San Diego County. In 2012, Rock Church members donated 233,712 hours of community service to the county of San Diego - a $4 million value. Last year, Rock Church expanded to include a campus in east San Diego county and continues on with God's work to reach every street and every person for Jesus.

Last year's Good Friday service at Petco Park may have seemed like just another successful Rock event. It was actually a pivotal moment in Rock history. For some time, Pastor Miles, using a football metaphor, has exhorted audiences to think of the Rock as a place where we gather to huddle, but the actual game is played out on the streets of our city, bringing pervasive hope to every street and every person. We have always had success sending out pockets of people to take on certain needs. But Good Friday created an opportunity to actually step outside of the walls of the Rock on a corporate, church-wide level.

The gathering outside the gates of Petco Park in downtown San Diego brought 4,345 people in attendance and 34 commitments were made for Christ. But many of the church staff simultaneously felt like something more than an outreach was happening.

"I walked into the Good Friday celebration as a young adult leader," says Rock Pastor, Mingo Palacios. "I walked out a church planter."
