There are different ways to focus on God and prepare to come into His holy presence; fasting is one. It's a spiritual discipline that might seem complicated and even impossible. But, there is a point at which a person goes from someone who would not consider fasting, to someone who finally does.

For Ben, that point came when he heard a person ask Pastor Miles, "So what is so spiritual about fasting?"

"Try it and you'll find out," was his reply.

Hmm, Ben thought. Was there a blessing waiting on the other side of refraining from eating? It was a blessing he wanted like a child wants to open a gift on Christmas morning.

"After all," recalls Ben, "not only is fasting throughout the scriptures, Jesus said in Matthew 6, 'When you fast,' not 'if.'"

So he dove in. He decided to fast for one day. He knew that to grumble through the hunger pangs was going to be unproductive and make the experience not worth doing. So he set his mind on "things above." As Ben recalled, "I was talking to a friend at work about God when suddenly, I started to have this feeling, like, 'God, you're so amazing,' in a way I hadn't before."
