NOTES:

Exposed takes a close look at the “cult of personality” that occupies so much of pop-culture’s time and focus. We are quick to judge celebrities and be entertained by their downfall, while in reality our lives are often just as broken.

CONDEMN: The act of pronouncing someone guilty after weighing the evidence.¹

The evidence is their life, therefore we have to wait for all the evidence to come in.

1. We are more committed to proving how much we know versus _____ we know.

- We are more concerned about being right than doing right.

2. We believe that highlighting the sins of someone else will _____ God from our own sin.

- We feel the need to validate our personal worth by the failures of others.

3. We are more interested in breaking broken people versus _____ broken people.

When Jesus heard that, He said to them, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. 13 But go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice.’ For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.” - Matthew 9:12-13²
