

EXPANDING THE WALLS OF THE CHURCH

Jesus was a boat-sinking, net-ripping, expectation-defying leader who brought His audiences to a place of astonishment, and in turn, they gave Him EVERYTHING.

Ask yourself these questions:

1. How is Jesus sinking your securities?

His approach is something we should all pay attention to:

1. He enters into the familiar space of the fishermen.
2. He tasks them in something they are familiar with.
3. He challenges them to simple obedience.

2. How is Jesus ripping holes in your systems?

I had to address the deep stirring that was happening inside my heart. Fear told me to keep my head down and not move on my conviction, "You've given this ministry 6 years of your life, it's running so smoothly... you could easily do another 6 years and cruise smooth." But here was Jesus, asking me if I'd be willing to put my nets out.

3. How is Jesus challenging the expectations you've put on yourself and your life?

Jesus' actions left the fishermen 'astonished'...Literally, seized by amazement. Be cautious to not miss the savior in this moment. He is the craftsman behind amazement, and all too often we develop an appetite for the catch.

If your world seems like it's sinking and your securities are stretching beyond capacity, take heart, an opportunity to follow is right around the corner.
